

CROSS ROADS HOUSE

SHELTER AND SUPPORTIVE SERVICES
FOR PEOPLE EXPERIENCING HOMELESSNESS

Annual REPORT

2021/2022

Welcome to Cross Roads House

Our Mission

We protect men, women, and children of the greater Seacoast area experiencing homelessness from exposure and hunger.

We provide secure, transitional shelter for those seeking to break the cycle of homelessness.

We support individuals and families by providing them with the opportunity to move with dignity and purpose to stable and decent housing.

DEAR FRIENDS:

When reflecting on this past year, the word evolution often comes to mind, as we have all had to adapt to monumental change. Most meaningfully, we have learned to live with COVID-19, just as we learned to live with the flu and other maladies throughout the ages. Thankfully, Cross Roads House made it through this period in our history mostly unscathed. This was, in part, thanks to our partners in the state and federal government and at foundations and businesses, as well as individual donors who were so generous during this time of uncertainty, especially for our unhoused neighbors. Even in the worst of COVID's grip, this past year we managed to serve 427 unhoused children, women, and men – a 16% increase over the prior year.

It was the flexibility, compassion and dedication of our staff that truly got us through the worst of the pandemic. Even now, we continue to take the precautions of distancing and screening where practical. We are hopeful that as things continue to improve, we will be able to increase our bed count, particularly as the colder months arrive and we see the numbers on our wait list increase.

In May of this year, we celebrated our first in-person gala in two years. Almost two hundred of our close friends and supporters gathered with us for the 20th annual Benefit by the Sea at the Wentworth by the Sea – the hotel's first in-person event since the pandemic hit as well. It was great to be back together! That night capped our most successful event ever by raising $690,000, a number we couldn't have achieved without the talent of our staff and board members.

These funds could not come at a better time as CRH, like many businesses, struggles to attract and retain talented staff. We also need to invest in our amazing facilities – which operate under the heavy wear of 24/7/365 access – so that we can continue to serve the most vulnerable of the Seacoast area communities for years to come.

For the first time in a long time, CRH has seen significant changes in its leadership. Our past leadership teams were instrumental in bringing Cross Roads House forward through many challenges, and now a new crop of leaders has stepped in to carry on that evolution and growth. A new executive director, director of development, shelter manager and facilities manager bring fresh eyes and new thinking to the work done here at New Hampshire's second largest homeless shelter. We also continue to work with one of the strongest and most dedicated board of directors that any non-profit could have.

Now in our 40th year as a driving force in the fight against homelessness, support from the community remains paramount as access to affordable housing remains a continual and escalating crisis in the area. In the aftermath of COVID and the burgeoning economic crisis, many families and individuals continue to be housed in hotels. Federal funding that pays for these rooms will end at some point and we will most likely see a flood of unhoused families and individuals coming to CRH for respite. This remains one of our biggest concerns – that the need for our services will continue to grow and outpace our ability to help our residents find permanent housing. This results in longer stays at the shelter and a longer wait list for those who desperately need safe shelter. We should all be concerned about this challenge as we seek more affordable housing alternatives to retain our workforce, sustain our diverse and strong economy, and create vibrant and healthy communities across the Seacoast region.

While gifts from donors like you support our programs, wrap-around services and the talented people that make all this good work happen, we are still 70% dependent on those individual gifts to help us meet our obligations. Over the next year, we will explore ways to diversify our revenue stream and bring the next generation of donors to CRH to support and address these endemic and systemic issues. We will work with donors and foundations, other non-profits, municipalities, state agencies, and partner developers to advocate for and grow our housing stock. The evolution continues at CRH, and we hope you will support us in this important and meaningful work.

As we look for new ways to engage with our communities and raise awareness about CRH, we will build grassroots partnerships with businesses in towns across the Seacoast as well as alliances on a broader scale. Adding new events will be important going forward as we spread our message to educate and engage a new generation of donors. Please watch for emails, updates to our website and posts across our social media channels to see what events we have planned in the year ahead.

We are so grateful for the community's generosity over the past 40 years. Together we have impacted so many lives. Thank you to our donors, volunteers, board of directors, partner agencies and government officials for the incredible support over this past year. Everyone's efforts directly assisted in protecting and meeting the needs of hundreds of individuals who experienced homelessness.

In the following pages, you will read about a few of our remarkable residents who have recently moved to permanent housing. They worked hard alongside our direct care staff and case managers to bring stability and improvement to their lives. We are in awe of the obstacles they overcame and celebrate their tenacity. They are now back in our communities where they need to be and contributing in meaningful ways. There are hundreds of stories like these of people that have been pushed out, fallen on hard times and gotten back up. They are valuable members of our Seacoast communities. Let us not forget them. Our work continues.

Mission Moments

STORIES OF OUR RESIDENTS

ZACHARY
Resident at CRH from August 2022 to September 2022

“I’ve been to other shelters and by far, Cross Roads has been the most helpful. At first I didn’t want to come here. I was very skeptical because those other places ... didn’t treat me like this place did.”

Zachary became homeless when he aged out of the foster care system. He moved around the state, staying in various shelters. He thinks Cross Roads House is by far the best place he’s stayed and feels we are a very trustworthy and honest place. When asked to clarify what it is that makes CRH stand out, he doesn’t hesitate to say that it’s the staff, and how “there’s always someone ready to help you if you need something, anytime of the day.”

Zachary secured housing right down the road from his foster family. His advice before leaving? “I think a lot of other shelters should come here, take tours and learn about how you do things and take some notes.”

Knowing I had a team behind me let me find the strength within to do the work and succeed.”

Monica was a thriving member of her community, working as an advocate for the homeless. Then she got sick. After an extended stay in the hospital, she learned she was being evicted due to lack of payment and providing access to unauthorized subletters. She moved to a hotel, an expense that quickly drained her savings. She once again found herself without a place to live. Given her background in homeless advocacy, Monica found it both terrifying and fascinating to now be unhoused herself. She didn’t let that stop her.

As a resident at CRH, Monica paid attention. She credits the supportive programs and her case manager, along with her own grit, for fast tracking her way back to permanent housing. “Anyone coming here needs to realize that it’s not forever. It’s just a transition. Cross Roads is exactly that, a cross in the road.”

MONICA
Resident at CRH from April to June 2022

“This place has a magical way of helping you find your place in the world. Just come in with an open mind.”

Mark and Lisa were living in their car for four years before coming to CRH. Lisa has significant health issues that had gone undiagnosed due to a lack of medical care. Just before they arrived, she went into full diabetic shock and had to be hospitalized. Luckily, a friend in the community told them about Cross Roads House. Once Lisa was released from the hospital, they found their way here.

While at first they didn’t understand the rules and structure of the programs offered at CRH, they quickly adapted and became mentors to others on how to be proactive residents here. “We’ve changed since coming here - we didn’t know how to live outside our car. Change is hard. Some people don’t like it, but if something was so easy to go after, then it wouldn’t be worth it.”

MARK and LISA
Residents at CRH from August 2021 to July 2022

Programs & Services

OUR VISION IS TO BREAK THE CYCLE OF HOMELESSNESS

For the past 40 years, Cross Roads House has been providing emergency and transitional shelter to homeless individuals and families in the greater Seacoast area. Beyond shelter and meals, CRH provides in-house case management, life skills programs and access to local partner agencies, all to support the residents' work to successfully return to permanent housing and thrive in the community.

During the past year, we continued to follow CDC guidelines to help us address the challenge of providing shelter and support services while keeping our residents safe from COVID-19. Moves to permanent housing were slow due to lack of affordable inventory and high demand. By utilizing donor funding and specific COVID-related funding, we were able to temporarily house symptomatic and high-risk individuals at local hotels.

We followed COVID-19 protocols such as masking, distancing, daily screenings, sanitizing and using air cleaners to prevent infections. This limited positive cases and prevented widespread outbreaks. We held several on-site vaccination clinics for residents and staff. Our staff was trained and certified to provide rapid testing as needed for those exhibiting symptoms and worked to advocate for and find funding for weekly PCR surveillance testing. All of this allowed us to serve as many people as possible, as safely as possible.

We reinstated resident services that were commonplace prior to the pandemic, such as educational seminars (Rent Ready – How to Be a Good Tenant, Financial Literacy, Ready to Work) and increased access to health services through our community partners at Families First and Seacoast Mental Health.

Cross Roads House continues to provide access to critical emergency shelter, assisting in finding housing, providing referrals to local agencies and offering post-shelter case management support, all vital tools in helping residents stabilize and settle into permanent housing.

GRETCHEN
One of 127 residents to move to permanent housing last year with keys to her apartment.

“It’s [the] difference between being out there, out in the outside, and having safety, knowing there’s people who care and support you.”
- Gretchen

Legacy Society

THIS UNIQUE AND IMPORTANT GROUP OF DONORS HAVE MADE A COMMITMENT TO SUPPORT OUR MISSION FOR GENERATIONS TO COME

Members of the Cross Roads House Legacy Society choose to support the good work we do through a provision or bequest in their will, trust or other charitable vehicle. By doing so, they make a powerful statement of projected and continued support for those who will come to us in the future, ensuring that CRH will be here to help.

As a former member of our board, Jude Blake has personally seen the impact a gift like this can have. A life-long philanthropist and resident of Portsmouth, she has seen our organization grow to what it is today. Her continued belief in the power of our facility and programs to make a difference for countless individuals and families in the Seacoast area is inspirational.

JUDE BLAKE
Former board member, philanthropist and Legacy Society member

“Cross Roads House is an incredibly well-run organization that does the tough work of taking care of people who desperately need their help. My legacy gift is one way I can help ensure that CRH remains sustainable and continues to care for those who need them, long into the future.”
- Jude Blake

Benefit by the Sea

We hosted almost 200 people for our 20th Annual Benefit by the Sea on May 7 of this year – our first in-person event in two years – at the Wentworth by the Sea Hotel. The generosity of the Seacoast community was on full display with sponsorships and guest pledges totaling more than $690,000 and making the night our best fundraising event to date. The success of the evening was due in no small part to the 60 corporate and private sponsors. Guests at the event were equally generous, offering pledges that essentially doubled the sponsorship dollars. “We continue to be inspired by those in the Seacoast community who provide this kind of support to help break the cycle of homelessness. The Benefit by the Sea gala has become a signature event in the community and is critical to funding our annual operating expenses. Every gift made that night and throughout the year counts toward funding the needs of our residents,” said Executive Director Wildolfo Arvelo.

CROSS ROADS HOUSE

Josh came to CRH a year ago with his elderly mother and his two young sons. They all are now stabilized and permanently housed. He's pictured here with keys to his new home and his case manager, Michelle.

We have been a driving force in the fight against homelessness in the greater Seacoast area since 1982. In the 40 years since then, we have provided beds, meals and wrap-around services to thousands of individuals and families.

With access to affordable housing a continual and escalating crisis in the area, support from the community remains paramount.

Almost 70% of the funding for Cross Roads House comes from individual donors and organizations, all of which supports the immediate needs of residents as well as annual operating expenses.

Scan the code to visit our website and learn more about how you can be part of the collective impact on homelessness in our communities. Every gift, every volunteer hour and every item donated makes a difference.
